Terms & Conditions

- Tamim Iqbal has announced his retirement from T20Is shortly after leading the ODI side to a 3-0 series win over West Indies in Guyana.
- Bangladesh won the match by four wickets, with Tamim winning the player-of-the-series award.
- At around 6pm local time, he wrote a short message on his official Facebook page, posting in Bangla saying, consider me retired from T20 internationals from today. Thanks everyone.
- It ends speculations over the last several weeks about his decision to continue playing the format he had taken a break from in January this year. He said at the time that he is going to take a break of six months from T20Is.
